THE COLONEL'S CORNER

BY BO GRITZ

BETWEEN THE LINES -- A CASE OF RADICAL EXTREMES

Most of you probably know that Randy Weaver, Jack McLamb, Jerry Gillespie and I went to Jordan, Montana the last week of April. I had called the FBI during the first week of the standoff advising them that if there was no progress after several weeks, I would fly up to help. The FBI said they wanted to meet me in Billings before we went on to Jordan.

Critical Incident Response Group (CIRG) Supervisory Special Agent James E. Duffy and a back-up squared off against us ala Ruby Ridge. Jim is a somewhat younger, but high mileage man about my size who loves playing the "heavy." Nose-to-nose, Duffy started the confrontation by stating that it is final: "NO-GO FOR BO" into Jordan. We postured back and forth until I mentioned standing before a Congressional committee after the Freemen are burned out telling the members it was Jim Duffy who wouldn't allow us access to Justus Township." The Duff blinked and began the standard: "I'm not a decision-maker, nor responsible person" line. I left him awash with his official position, and my assurance that the FBI would have the opportunity to arrest us the next day as we landed at Jordan.

Three times I asked Duffy why the FBI was at Jordan. The first time he said: "Washington, D.C.;" (2) "Ruby Ridge and Waco;" and finally, "Vigilantes." Certainly Department of Justice (DOJ) dispatched the CIRG and the reason they hadn't attacked the Freemen with the Hostage Response Team (HRT) was backlash from the Weaver-Waco debacles. I was puzzled, however, about the paradox of the FBI being on station to "protect" the Freemen from their own neighbors. One day in Jordan was enough to show the division of support for those who had changed the Clark Ranch into Justus Township. T-Shirts at the H&H 1-Stop gas station and general store read "Hello FBI -- Goodbye LeRoy!"

Randy, Jack and myself arrived at the Billings airport amid a gale and phone call from Jerry that the motorhome had almost been upset by the extreme winds. The FAA issued "Hazardous Flying Warning Yankee-14" and strongly advised against anything trying to get airborne at anytime on 25 April in northern Montana. We took off anyway -- albeit with no lack of trepidation. Our Jordan landing (actually there were two if you count the bounce) was captured by TV news. We were down and we were there. The ugly weather was an appropriate punctuation for our determination not to be denied entrance to the Freemen.

Jim Duffy had ordered me to come first to the FBI Tactical Operations Center (TOC) at the Garfield County Fairgrounds before heading out -- a decree we ignored. Some 25 miles from Jordan, at a crossing known as Four Corners, the road was blocked by FBI and Montana Highway Patrol. Their orders were to have us report to the TOC. They would not be moved. Round 1 went to the FBI. We turned around.

The FBI operation at Ruby Ridge was high dollar ($1 million+ per day) including a motorhome TOC and Red Cross donuts. At the Garfield fairgrounds I was ushered into a covered cattle pen sectioned with tarps, containing a bare table, army cots, military sleeping bags, and a pair of propane heaters. Jim Duffy, his boss, CIRG Senior Agent and "Chief Negotiator" Gary Noesner, and a former Lewiston, Idaho Mormon Bishop, Greg R. Rampton greeted us. Greg had written a poison-pen letter about me to the Lewiston Tribune while he was the Supervisory Senior Resident Agent. Greg had been transferred to Salt Lake and detailed to the CIRG for the Freeman "OPERATION GREY SUNSET." I knew we were going to get along just fine -- Duffy and I became good friends.

Gary explained that he wanted me to wait a day before going in so that the FBI could run a special "initiative." Gloria Ward was a young mom with two daughters, Courtney (10) and Jay-Lyn (8) inside the Freeman's "Justus Township." Gloria was wanted on a felony child-custody charge in Utah for not returning the girls to her former spouse. Gloria and her more recent partner, Erwin Ward, were in trouble in North Carolina for marrying off another daughter before the age of legal consent. They belong to a Mormon spin-group that practices polygamy and openly solicits young women for wives at the age of 12. Gloria's actual given name was Tamara Mangum. Under this sect men give their women a "new-name." The Feds had worked long and hard to obtain permission for Gloria's sister, Lyn, from Attorney Generals in Montana, Michigan, and Utah to take custody of Courtney and Jay-Lyn. Lyn was determined to come out with girls. I agreed to wait -- which wasn't long.

A rebuffed Lyn told a tale of more than 26 persons preparing for all out war with machine guns and "...assault rifles bigger than you ever saw!..." as Lyn pointed directly at me. The inference was that Justus Township was a fortress and those on the inside were seeking only a violent "die in place" end. Dana Landers, one of the Freeman, had called Lyn a prostitute -- meaning that she wanted the children only because the state would pay her. She had been greatly intimidated, angered, and vexed. It was her opinion that the girls were being held hostage. Her report gave rise to excitement within the FBI. "Machine guns," "assault rifles," "fortress," "hostage," are all key words that authorize deadly force by the HRT commandos. I sensed that the FBI wanted a tactical evaluation from someone less emotional and more objective. We were cleared into the Freeman area the following morning (Saturday) -- all except Weaver.

I had asked Randy to join the Bo-Jack Team for two specific reasons: (1) Weaver could tell the moms better than anyone else how painful it is to lose his precious Vicki and Sammy. Sammy would have turned 18 years old on the day we arrived at Jordan. I wanted everyone involved to know the high potential for death, injury, and destruction if they refused to take their case to the jury; (2) Schweitzer and Petersen, the leaders were in jail. I correctly assumed no one else had taken the helm. Dealing with 22 individuals was more than Jack and I could handle. Weaver would draw a crowd, allowing Jack and I to isolate some of the others. Both Jim Duffy and Gary Noesner had been clear that FBI/DOJ nerves were still raw over the Ruby Ridge outcome. Gary promised to recommend Weaver be allowed in, but the final decision would have to come from Director Louis Freeh and AG Janet Reno.

None of us slept well in the motor home that night. 44 months before atop Ruby Ridge, Idaho it was the same. Early Monday morning (2:00 A.M.) on 31 August 1992 as Jack and I slept before making a final effort to try and bring the Weaver family out, I had a dream-vision. I clearly saw that at exactly 12:00 Noon, the Weaver cabin door opened and they all came out. I was holding Randy's right arm, while he cradled Elisheba on his left side. Jack, like a mother hen followed with his arms protecting both Sara and Rachel. We walked down the hill and no one accosted us. I awakened Jack at 4:00 A.M. and called my wife with the revelation at 6:00. It all turned out exactly as I had seen. In Jordan it was Jack who had the dream!

Jack said that he feared FBI snipers would shoot us as we got out of the vehicle at Justus Township boundary which consisted of a cattle guard, cable, and steel posts embedded in the dirt road. Jack was concerned that the FBI would use the incident as an excuse to wipe out the entire compound. He suggested that we not get out of the car until all the Freeman surrounded us as a shield. I wasn't convinced the FBI would shoot, nor that the Freeman would be willing to expose themselves in offering us safe passage. As it turned out no shots were fired on either side of the line. And the crazy thing about this standoff is that there has been no blood shed or capital crime.

Jerry parked the motorhome at the Jordan airstrip, just up the road from the county fairgrounds. I got up early and went over to the FBI TOC. A boyish agent met me at the gate. We Interesting side note on the County Attorney Nick Murnion aka the town banker aka the Farmers loan administrator.

Nick Murnion is not well liked by nearly all of his relatives in Garfield County. Apparently he goes to the farmers and approves them for all of these loans which they can never pay back.

Ralph Clark cannot even read nor write yet was approved for such a loan (over $670,000).

Then when the farmers default on the loans, Nick Murnion leads the charge to foreclose and sells the property, pennies on the dollar, to huge corporations. You see, this area is very rich in oil reserves!

Even the FBI admitted that a grand jury needs to take a look at County Attorney Murnion and Sheriff Phipps.

laughed about him being a bar-certified attorney and Special Agent (SA) -- somewhat under qualified for his assigned task as gate guard. He agreed the accountant SA's were better matched emptying honey buckets from the porta-potties (the regular plumbing had burst during the winter and was out of service). Gary announced he had just gotten off the line with Director Freeh. It was a decided "no-go" for Weaver -- "just too politically sensitive." It reminded me of the MACV rules of engagement in Vietnam made up by Henry Kissinger tying one leg and arm behind us. Not having Weaver would hurt. A sort of vanilla fellow was introduced by Gary as Robert "Bear" Bryant, "the #3-man in the FBI," still I doubted he was a decision maker.

Noesner said that the Freeman absolutely did not want to see us. He painted an ugly picture. We went anyway. Past the first road block there was another team of FBI and Montana State Troopers (MHP). I counted 12 patrol cars and wondered who was policing Big Sky highways. A flower arrangement along the north side of the road marked the place where a SA was killed when his car skidded out of control on the wash-board and he was launched from the vehicle. A search party patted us down and gave the FBI Chevy Lumina a once-over. I got behind the wheel and followed a MHP cruiser over "media hill." It's is bewildering how the Washington political pendulum works. The Administration is so concerned about another Ruby Ridge -- Waco black-eye, that the media are actually sandwiched between the Freeman and the feds. The media are "between the lines!"

Jack and I got out at the cattle guard and crossed over the cabling. We were only about 50 yards up the road when a car pulled out of the main-house and headed our way. We were soundly welcomed and transported by Edwin Clark and Russell D. Landers -- so much for not being liked. I noticed that Edwin was wearing a POW bracelet. I thanked him and welcomed him home. Edwin had served in the USN. While both men were wearing quality sidearms, there was only one bold-action scoped hunting rifle in the car. Inside we were met by most of those thought to be in the compound. Besides establishing ourselves as human beings to the Freeman, I wanted to confirm the total number of people involved, their disposition toward violence, weaponry and fortifications. Talk took a backseat until I knew who and what we were dealing with.

It quickly became obvious that there was no established leadership since LeRoy and Daniel had been duped and captured a month before. On 25 March, a tall, youngish, handsome FBI undercover agent lured Freeman leaders LeRoy M. Schweitzer (57) and Daniel E. Petersen, Jr. (53) out of their ranch house sanctuary to erect a radio relay tower. Agents in ambush disabled both Freeman with high voltage tasers and carted them off to jail in Billings, Montana. I asked the sting agent how he had been able to get inside the Freeman? He first attended one of LeRoy's lien classes, voiced enthusiasm, and offered support in the form of $6,000 in computers, $4,000 in copy machine equipment, an array of radio equipment -- and finally the "antenna." News reports had the Freeman leaders arrested at the U.S. Post Office -- NOT! The Post Office is Federal property, while the range land is privately owned. When I shared the details of the capture with Randy Weaver, he became outraged. Randy said that John Trochman (Militia Montana) had tried the same trick on him. It was a point of FBI humor that the "old antenna trick would have to be set on the shelf for awhile" after so much use. Both Schweitzer and Petersen were locked up in Billings, but LeRoy was transferred to Springfield, Missouri when he refused to eat. There a tube was inserted through his nose for force-feeding.

The Freeman turned out to be a potpourri circus of over-the-hill outlaws, people with no past or future, victims of run-amok government, a pair of New York City scam artists, and three young girls. There turned out to be 22 in all. Stuart Waterhouse a self-styled Zorro-militia type from Texas had met a tall young man with bad teeth from Kansas, Barry Nelson, the day the siege began. The two impulsively decided to drive to Montana and add their presence. They ran the police roadblock. Viewed as possible undercover agents the Freeman excluded the pair from inter-circle discussions. Waterhouse attended our initial meeting then walked off his guard post and was apprehended. Nelson has sworn to "go down swinging."

The Clark family includes two elders, Ralph (65) and Emmett (67) with their wives Kay (65) and Rosey (70). Edwin is Ralph's son. His wife, Janet, is a nurse that works in the Garfield County Hospital. She left the siege in the first week. Their son, Casey is 21, but appears much younger. Casey has a pituitary gland condition which keeps his body from maturing. He was only four-feet tall at high school graduation. He needs a weekly shot to prevent coma and death. At the time of our visit, Casey was two weeks overdue! Ralph cannot read nor write, but set a Montana record for shearing 60 sheep in as many minutes.

Clarks had borrowed $800,000 from the Farm Credit Bank of Spokane (a government farm loan program). They weren't able to keep up $4,600 per month payments and decided to accept LeRoy's "township" solution rather than work out a deal with the banks. The property was sold at a sheriff's sale on 16 November 1994. The Clarks had the option to redeem the land until 16 November 1995, but did nothing. The new owners are prevented from taking possession.

Over the door of the "school room" (part of the main house) is a lower jaw part complete with teeth of a Tyrannosaurs Rex. The Clark property is a dinosaur grave yard. They also claim a huge oil reservoir is just beneath the surface. 30 tons of grain is at risk in their silos. Emmett's grandson, Dean Clark, purchased the home sites at the sheriff's foreclosure sale so that his family would forever have a place to live. Ironically, however, Emmett won't let him on the land to sell the grain to make the land payment.

The Hance family comes from North Carolina and consists of Dad, Steven C. (46), and sons, James E. (23) and John R. (19). Their crime was not having a license tag on their 1984 Ford pick-up truck. Police pulled the brothers over and went berserk when Steve tried to explain their "sovereign" position. Back-up was called and windows were broken as Steve ordered the boys to "drive out" of the assault. The police gave chase and did $200,000 damage to patrol cars trying to force the truck to stop. The three men were charged with assault on law officers with a deadly weapon and faced long prison terms. They jumped bail and joined the Freemen. John's become a father during the siege -- and may never see his new born daughter. News that the infant wasn't fairing well and now weighed less than at birth was met with a barrage of assurance from Dana that losing weight was normal for new borns.

The Freeman cadre is made up of Dale M. Jacobi (54), Rodney O. Skurdal (43), Russell Landers (44) and Dana Dudley a/k/a Landers (46). Jacobi was a constable in Calgary, Canada who became a respected propane businessman then inexplicably dropped out of sight for six years until his family recognized him on TV news as one of the Freemen. Dale was quiet, but strong. I liked him. Skurdal served as a Camp David U.S. Marine Corps Presidential Guard. He suffers from the effects of a head injury. Skurdal's main points were that "the FBI isn't registered in Montana to do business, and are part of interpol." Russ and Dana Landers and Dana's 14 year old daughter, Ashley are from New York City.

Russ and Dana are hucksters who have been, according to the FBI, twice charged with distribution of Cocaine over a nine year period (1977 and 1986). Russ was once committed to a mental facility. They are charged with securities fraud and other schemes including vehicle larceny and precipitating a violent felony in 1994. Before they arrived on the scene in Montana they were selling a Roy Schwasinger (sp) "We The People" class action suit scam at $300 a pop. When Roy was jailed in Colorado, the Landers headed north to Justus. I refer to Dale, Rodney, Russell, and Dana as "the gang of four."

Cherlyn B. Petersen (51), Daniel's wife, is also part of the Freeman population and is charged with multiple counts of fraud. The final member is a derelict-type older man, Casey Valdheisen (sp), who stopped by for a visit just in time for the siege.

Only five of the miscreants holding out on the Clark property face federal charges. LeRoy, Daniel, Rodney, Emmett and Richard Clark (47) are indicted for five counts of violating 18 USC in as much as they threatened public officials and conspired to prevent U.S. District Judge Jack D. Shanstrom, Clerk Lou Aleksich, Jr. and Sheriff Charles Phipps from performing their duties. The charges represent a potential $20,000 in fines and 41 years imprisonment. LeRoy, Daniel and Richard are already in custody. Only Rodney Skurdal and Emmett Clark remain as fugitives.

12 more Freemen are charged with 35 counts of fraud relating to the liens and issuing of bogus certified bankers checks, money orders and comptroller warrants. Additionally they are charged with Interference with Commerce, and 15 individual counts of illegally possessing and using firearms in the commission of crimes. They are: LeRoy, Daniel and Cherlyn Petersen, Emmett, Ralph and Richard Clark, Dale, Rodney, and a host of people already arrested (William, Ebert (23), and Agnes Stanton, and John P. McGuire). Skurdal, Jacobi, Cherlyn, Ralph and Emmett Clark are the only ones still at large.

Some of the fraud charges reflect a Robin Hood gesture, others are pure larceny. Together they pose a potential $3-million in fines and 120 years incarceration. LeRoy and Rodney took up residence in Roundup, Montana in 1994 and began writing worthless checks. Daniel joined the party early in 1995. They began teaching others how to do the same. Dale Jacobi had received a Schweitzer check on February 16th, 1995 and joined the group. Their cabal was made complete with the arrival of John Patrick McGuire, a fugitive from California. The group was guided by Richard Clark on 28 September 1995 to the Clark Ranch some 30 miles northwest of Jordan where they consolidated operations, established a CHERDAN Trust, and founded "Justus Township."

LeRoy and Daniel sent financial instruments to the Department of the Treasury, Bureau of Public Debt, Department F, Washington, D.C. 20239 transferring millions of dollars out of the U.S. District Court (Montana) Butte, Norwest Bank account #8520799406. They also issued fraudulent money orders drawn on the court's account in the tens-of-millions-of dollars to each other. They mailed payment checks to the IRS, e.g., $62,358.00 dated 11/17/95 payable to Regina Lee Ann McDaniel and the United States Bureau of Internal Revenue, bearing the signature of Leroy M. Schweitzer -- along with a letter requesting the refund. The Freemen told me that their practice was to write a check for twice the amount due (as mandated by Scripture). They joked that they weren't guilty if the IRS just happened to send back the overpayment.

Count number 36 of the Freemen indictment concerns 18 USC, Section 1951 -- Interference with Commerce by Threats of Violence and alleges that on 2 October 1995 an ABC TV crew had their person threatened and camera equipment robbed at gun point. Counts 37-51 cites each of the gun totters with violation of 18 USC, Section 922, "knowingly possessing a firearm as a fugitive and affecting interstate and foreign commerce."

Consider that five people (Jacobi, Skurdal, Ralph, Emmett, and Cherlyn) are the only ones facing federal charges. The Utah Assistant Attorney General Craig Barlow offered to drop charges on Gloria Ward. Russ and Dana Landers would have to face Colorado fraud charges, while Hances are in trouble in North Carolina. All the rest: Elwin, Courtne, and Jay-Lyn Ward, Ashley, Barry Nelson, Kay, Rosy, Edwin, and Casey Clark, Casey Valdheisen are not currently charged with a single crime. They could walk out as truly free Americans. Why don't they? While there is no gun to their head, intimidation can be a most persuasive weapon.

Skurdal and Jacobi presented me with a 26 page document and promise that every man, woman, and child will walk out as soon as the Attorney General proves that their position in law is faulty. It sounded like an easy fix.

The Freemen told me that their practice was to write a check for twice the amount due (as mandated by scripture). They joked that they weren't guilty if the IRS just happened to send back the overpayment.

Additionally, they copied a sheet from the Montana Constitution forbidding outside armed persons from coming into the state without permission of the Legislature, or proclamation of the Governor. The Freemen will not speak to the FBI because they have no legal status in the state. The Montana Legislature is out until January 1997, but surely the Governor would authorize the FBI, ala Ruby Ridge and the Weaver Idaho siege.

The first day we spent 7 1/2 hours talking to the Freemen with not so much as a water break. I noticed that the girls were chewing on some sort of gruel that turned out to be cracked corn. While it appears there is plenty of grain rotting in the silo, the pantry is near empty. There are cut off cardboard boxes in the classroom filled with dirt and sprigs of new growth. It seemed that every adult was chain smoking throughout the day and I thought they must have more tobacco than edibles. It wasn't until the conclusion of day-2 and another seven hour session that I learned they were out of butts. I wish they would have expressed the tone of sincerity in coming out that was used in requesting more cigarettes. No deal -- the Surgeon General is going to be proud of how they kick the habit.

I noted that none of the women had firearms of any kind. In the back corner by the classroom beneath the two-legged Rex jaw was a mixed stack of six hunting and semi-auto Soviet rifles. Next to the stack is an open vertical rack with another seven long weapons. Boxes and crates of ammunition lay along the wall. Five closed 6-foot tall cabinets made me wonder if there were more weapons (They turned out to be loaded with ancient law books and old encyclopedias). A horizontal rack on the opposite wall contained four more rifles and two shotguns. Two more rifles were on separate tables. There was no sign of any machine guns, larger than .300 caliber rifles, hand grenades, rocket launchers, gas masks, night vision, or fortifications. They don't even have a decent barking dog. "Rascal" is a small blackish English Collie scared of his own shadow and without a voice! I thought of "Striker," the Weaver dog, shot in the spine dragging himself along, yelping in pain.

Ashley told me, "I am only here because of my mom (Dana). This is not something I am willing to die for -- I haven't even started to live." Ashley opined that she would relish a visit to Taco Bell. It was obvious the Freemen are short on rations. Gloria said she would very much like to leave with her two girls. Before she could say another word the gang of four was around her pelting her with words critical of any thought of leaving. Hances indicated a desire to leave, but they had all been required by the gang of four to take an "affirmation" to God to stay. It was plain to see that the women and children were insulation against any HRT dynamic entry.

Jack and I were never in any physical danger. On day-2 we were able to establish Edwin Clark as the group leader after Dana tried to have me ejected. Dana was angry because I exposed their previous boiler room activity with Roy as an absolute scam. Known by a variety of names from "We The People" to "Flying Eagle Resources" it solicited a $300 "filing fee" from each member of a family promising millions of dollars in return. If you had ever borrowed money, it would all be repaid with interest and damages. Millions would be paid for any hospitalization, emotional distress, loss of companionship, divorce, death, and loss of education. A sample schedule offered $21 million for just the above categories. Suckers were assured that a Federal District Court had already ruled in favor of the suit with concurrence of the U.S. Supreme Court. When asked where the USG would get enough money to pay millions of people millions of dollars it was explained that Delta Force had raided foreign treasuries and recovered 800-trillion in gold. The Joint Chiefs of Staff were poised to take out the Federal Reserve and IRS in restoring Constitutional government.

Landers used a Schweitzer $400,000 "certified check" to drive off in a new motorhome. A Phoenix dentist passed Schweitzer paper in the amount of $250,000 in payment of four Range Rover vehicles. Schweitzer tried unsuccessfully to trade bad paper in the amount of $400,000 for one-hundred .50 caliber sniper rifles, 100,000 rounds of heavy machine gun ammunition, 100 range-finding binoculars, and $250,000 for radio equipment. The .50 caliber is capable of penetrating military armored personnel carriers and hitting a man-size target at 3,000 yards! I was concerned about such armament. Lyn's report had indicated much more than I was seeing.

After the Dana outburst, I reminded the gang of four that they had no more status on the Clark property than I did -- we were all guests. Edwin affirmed my pronouncement. I was fed up with Dana's disrespectful attitude toward her host. Every time Ralph Clark tried to say something she ordered him to "Shut up and sit down!" It was hard to believe that she had such a nice daughter, and a son serving a mission for the Mormon Church in Brazil. I did everything possible to draw a line separating the gang of four from the others. The non-freemen had to be made to see their position as serfs to the blue-blood scam artists.

I asked Edwin about any heavy weapons. He admitted that they had been offered machine guns, heavy caliber sniper rifles, hand grenades, and bomb making materials, but had turned each proposal down. He assured me that the Freemen were "strictly defensive with no intent to harm anyone not trying to hurt them." To test him, I asked about a weapon observed from a distance with a large capacity drum-type magazine. Jack had reported it as a .22 caliber. It could be an "American 180," manufactured in Utah, the gun fires at a rate of 3,000 rounds per minute. It is designed to cut a car in two, knock down block walls and slice through houses. The CIA uses a suppressed 180 mounted in a briefcase paired to a laser sight to make mincemeat out of sanctioned targets. Edwin presented the gun as a weapon belonging to Waterhouse. It turned out to be a modified Soviet 7.62x39 SKS -- no major threat.

The Freemen were getting used to us. Day-3 achieved a vital bonding. Edwin broke down in tears as he poured out his heart full of troubles. It isn't easy making a living from scrub land more suitable for deer, antelope and buffalo than sheep and cattle. Grind in severe weather, crop reverses, dropping beef prices, and the fact that it costs more in feed than a dairy farmer gets per gallon of milk, you have an equation for desperation.

"Daddy did we ever have any money, or have we just always been farmers?"

Edwin cried like a baby when he shared a comment from one of the children: "Daddy did we ever have any money, or have we just always been farmers?" He talked about Vietnam and the loss of his buddies. He explained how hard they had worked the land, only to come up short -- how Schweizer offered the only hope to cling to what four generations had sweat and bled to keep.

The Freeman expressed grave concern for Schweitzer's well being. Brandy, his daughter, signed a handwritten affidavit after a visit to the Springfield facility. She reported torture and intimidation. Specifically, she described large dark bruising on the inside of LeRoy's elbows. As a martial arts expert, I know these are karate pressure points. Even a slight pressure produces considerable pain. When I mentioned the observation to the FBI, they suggested that LeRoy was probably "restrained" while inserting the feeding tube down his throat. Brandy also swore that LeRoy told her a New York physician told him that even if he beat the charges, cancer cells would be inserted in his body through the feeding tube.

I asked what the Freeman would do to secure LeRoy's return to Billings. It surprised me somewhat that when challenged, they showed little or no interest in any good faith measure that might help their estranged head. Feigning loyalty, and claiming LeRoy would "kick butt" if they were to compromise with the USG in any degree, they wouldn't even return one of the two seized TV cameras. It was apparent that LeRoy was not the beloved mentor outsiders thought him to be.

I resorted to drawing pictures to try and get us on a common course of agreement. I drew a circle at the bottom of the page and labeled it "Freemen." Next came two lines like "rabbit ears" representing the only possible two alternatives -- one was to "life," the other "death." With death the scenario ended. Life gave way to two possibilities: one was dignity -- coming out with heads high before the media, no chains, or cuffs, taking their position in law with the best possible attorney before a jury. The only other option was disgrace (the FBI will not just go away), faces in the dirt, chains and cuffs, being dragged before America into jail with no representation and long prison sentences. Russell offered a third choice: a "citizen's grand jury" made up of "freeholders" as defined by an 1801 law. The third line was erased when I asked if any of them actually thought they might be allowed such a jury of "peers." Trapped in logic, they resorted to the supernatural: "Yahweh has placed an invisible barrier around this sanctuary that foreign enemies cannot penetrate!"

My second drawing positioned the FBI at the bottom with the Freeman on top. A gloved hand marked "CIRG" (negotiators) was extended toward the Freeman; an hourglass occupied the center; a second hand in form of a iron fist was poised to strike as the glass ran dry. Edwin agreed they were all aware of the potential for a violent end. Jacobi said it was in God's hands. Skurdal announced in a loud voice that their forceful capture would ignite a multi-million-man-militia revolution that would sweep ZOG out of America (Zionist Occupational Government). Russell announced: "I won't go alive to court unless captured!" I challenged with the reality of their having trained more than 1,500 freemen at the Justus school. Where were they? Why were we the ones here instead of them? What about the 800 patriots that ended up being only 8 at a widely publicized gathering in Lewistown?

I was instructed by SSA Noesner that Montana Assistant Attorney General Conner and Legislator Ohs would be going in first on Day-4 with a seven-point drop dead offer. The Freeman had proposed a "forum" before the Montana Legislature and Governor which would lead to a "judicial end." The Freeman wanted safe conduct to and from Helena, and a third party negotiator to handle the FBI. A 7-point talking paper was contingent on the Freeman coming out within 24 hours and being processed in accordance with the provisions of law. I knew it meant that those inside Justus would have to surrender to arrest, photo, printing, arraignment, et al, but the language was obscure enough to be mistranslated by the gang of four. We waited. Our part was to carry in a final offer (it was Monty Hall time) good for only 24-hours. If this best and final was refused -- all bets were off and complications would follow (compounded charges). It was to be a one-two do or die combination.

The state officials came and went. Chief Negotiator Noesner said that according to Conner and Ohs all was well. The Bo-Jack Team was in. With the intensity of the previous days divide and conquer effort, I half-expected to be brought before a people's court, tried and burned at the stake. Jack and I left the car and started up the roadway. We were almost to the top when Edwin and Barry rounded the bend -- it looked like he was waving us back. Edwin opened the door and bubbled out an apology for not seeing us. Everyone was busy compiling a list of third-party negotiators and planning their presentation before the nation. Inside the whole group was effervescent, it was like they were high on champagne. My nemesis Rodney and Russell grinning euphorically shouted: "Bo, WE WON, WE WON! They went on to explain that Conners and Ohs had at first demanded that the seven points be agreed to within 24 hours, but after being challenged, wadded up the proposal and declared that there would be no time limit -- nothing would happen to the Freeman as long as they were communicating with state officials.

I felt like a one-joke stand-up comic following a buffoon who had just dropped my punch line. Edwin inquired what we were there for? Somehow: "Come out in 24-hours or all deals are off" didn't fit. It was like being suddenly transported to the twilight zone -- nothing was real! Russell laughed off as an illusion the threat of "complications" boasting that he had put more than 30 judges behind bars for such nonsense. Dana added that her father was a great physicist murdered in Europe because of his knowledge of the Roswell incident and UFOs. He had telephoned her just before being killed and relayed all the alien secrets. They were going to take down ZOG by exposing the cover-up! I expected to see Alice and the Mad Hatter appear.

Skurdal announced they wanted Judge Robert Bork to come and represent them with the FBI. I ventured that Judge Bork might not leave his lofty perch to appear in Justus Township. Jacobi said that Dr. Gene Schroder would do. I suggested that he might join the population and the FBI wouldn't approve their nomination. Third on the list was Colorado

Senator Charlie Duke -- a reasonable choice.

I suggested that former Nebraska State Senator and attorney John DeCamp represent their position in court. DeCamp had defused the Militia of Montana (MOM) -- criminal syndicalism case when Trochman and seven others were jailed in Billings amid cries of armed revolt by supporting radicals. Jacobi was one of the seven. He was angry at DeCamp because he had told John "no deals" and yet the MOMs were set free. Jacobi wanted to remain behind bars in hopes of drawing in other unorganized militia. I was surprised that Skurdal expressed an interest in having Gerry Spence for a lawyer. Spence is the best, but he would abandon the Freeman at the first demonstration of court foolishness. DeCamp would endure.

Edwin wanted to talk to us alone outside of the group. He violated standing Freeman orders by driving Jack and I alone to the property line. In the car he assured us that all would be well. Conner and Ohs had told him in confidence not to worry "Nothing will change here" as long as the door was open to them. Edwin was back in the ozone layer. I wondered if David Koresh and the Davidians thought nothing would change on Day-51? (May 16th for the Freeman). We sat at the barricade for more than 25 minutes talking with Edwin about how the Clarks might be able to win in court and reclaim their land. Edwin sat up suddenly and announced that he had to go. Dale Jacobi was walking down the hill toward the car. The thought-police was coming.

The building blocks we had carefully structured had been scattered in a single deceptive meeting. Conner and Ohs had deceived the great deceivers. We weren't back to square one, but it would take time and maneuvering to re-bridge the gap. It was time for Jack and I to withdraw for awhile -- until the Freeman understood the dilemma of having lost their voice. I explained the true caveat meaning of the obscure reference in paragraph four of the 7-point paper. To them the FBI was in violation of the law and the requirement for surrender was mute. The Freeman gained confidence by demanding to know why the U.S. Attorney had not responded to their law position and lack of invitation by the State of Montana. To the Freeman the FBI just were not there. They will continue in this dream world until somehow awakened to the lateness of the hour.

The FBI planned to reintroduce the two state officials to clarify the point that the forum and all other deals were off unless the Freeman came out within 24 hours. I knew what the reaction would be. Jack and I went back in Wednesday morning for a final shot at reality. I took each person firmly by the hand, looked deep into their eyes, called their name and gave them a blessing that we would meet again in "this same form." Even the chain-smoker Cheryl cried. I pointed out to the gang of four and Edwin that they were responsible for the safety of each person they had spoken for in refusing to take their case to court. Once again I beseeched Edwin to release the non-freemen. His pained reply made it clear that they knew the value of placing children between themselves and the FBI: "But Bo if the others left -- what would happen to the Freeman?"

Russell reminded everyone that they had all "taken an affirmation to Yahweh's law and pledged all property and life to training fellow Americans to restore America." I asked just how far back they saw us going before we were "restored," Vietnam, World War II, WW I? Russell said we would have to return to 1791. I inquired what was wrong with 1832 when our debt was zero? Skurdal suggested we would have to go back before the Civil War and the 14th Amendment. The Freeman do not recognize equal rights for all Americans.

My final repartee was an appeal to the group to have faith that they could win in court just as Randy Weaver, Kevin Harris, and I had won. The gang of four quickly suppressed any positive thought by proclaiming: "We know we can win in Federal Court, but that is not the issue. The issue is that true law has been supplanted by ZOG's administrative law. The system never changes. We must restore the lawful government!"

I reminded them that the FBI would not go away. It was only a matter of time until they moved in to affect an involuntary arrest. I told them: "If I were in charge I would approach unarmed with a company of U.S. Marshals. Would you fire on us?" "No Bo, we will only fire in self-defense if you were trying to hurt us." "OK, now I'm at the door. Are you going to shoot me?" "No Bo, we won't hurt anyone not intending to harm us." "OK, I've taken the door off its hinges because you wouldn't open it. I'm moving to arrest you. Are you going to shoot us?" Edwin was shaking his head no, when a scowling Skurdal broke in to end the conversation with: "Bo, we aren't going to tell you what we will do under that circumstance!" We had rained on their party, but still they clung to our hands and encircled us with words. It was as if something dreadful might happen if we left.

For the first time John Hance accompanied Edwin as security for our ride to the cattleguard. They forgot their two-way radio (maybe on purpose). At the cattleguard, we sat and quietly talked about the future. John said that they had all made a solemn promise to God that they wouldn't leave. I suggested that I might just pick him up and carry him across the line. John looked tenderly at me and softly said: "Yes sir, you sure could do that, but I must tell you it wouldn't be voluntary on my part." The hair stiffened on the back of my neck -- a surefire indicator that my inclination is right. Then I thought about not having prepared a deal for John and what might happen if I brought him in wrapped up in my arms. Just as I was about to lift him out, Jack remanded me against possibly slamming the door to other entries. I still wish John was on his way home. Better than Waco.

I watched hours of Schweitzer video to familiarize myself with his ideology. With three Masters degrees, I was unable to follow his twisting commentary on law. One moment he is talking about the 13th Century Magna Carta, followed by a comment that "positive law is Jew law." Rambling in and out, back and forth, he convinced me of one thing -- not even the Freeman could possibly know where their true position lies -- just make it up as you go along.

I thought to see Schweitzer and convince him to sign a letter advising the release of non-Freemen, but Robin Montgomery, now on station at Jordan and head of both the HRT and CIRG advised that they thought it best to keep even the thought of LeRoy completely away from the population of Justus Township. He may be right. I also thought to introduce Senator Duke to the Freeman as a bridge to meaningful tough-love initiatives. I'd like to have another chance to give John a piggyback ride home. I am willing to lead a non-violent arrest effort. I wish I had the eyes of Elisha. I don't want to see anyone hurt. Not John, not the girls, Clarks, Jim Duffy -- not even little Rascal.

Montgomery is returning to D.C. as I am preparing this report. He has to brief the mighty chiefs. He promises to keep me informed. Five-hundred family farms are foreclosed on each week. USA TODAY "Life Section" records each Wednesday 5,000 government seizures of personal property from people neither charged, nor adjudicated guilty. It seems the government sworn to protect people and property has turned predator. There are news reports of BATF smashing into the home of innocent families on the false testimony of criminals. I have confirmation of FBI alerts warning U.S. Government agencies of possible militia attacks. I see manufactured information against alleged terrorist bomb makers in Atlanta. Both sides (the government and the Freeman) seem to be unnecessarily freaked out. America needs a tranquilizer to soothe away the hives that irritate our body politick. With its own afflictions, the media isn't likely to be of much help. America is the one truly caught in the middle of these radical extremes. Bravery, Fidelity, and Integrity on all sides is the best remedy. Let's all do our part and put America back on her feet as a healthy and safe place to live.

I predict that the FBI will ultimately resolve the standoff by targeting HRT teams against the four Clark houses. Each structure is isolated from the others by approximately 1/4 mile. A coordinated non-violent strike against all four areas deep on a moonless night might well result in capture of all 21 occupants without bodily injury to either side. Night vision, tasers, flashbangs, and chemical sprays in the hands of well trained teams could reestablish the FBI as a law enforcement arm that is interested in peaceful solutions, but will not be held at bay by law breakers.

RUBY RIDGE -- AN AMERICAN TRAGEDY

CBS runs a two-part mini-series on 19 and 21 May about the Weavers. The movie-makers didn't bother to check with Randy or me. The movie is based on a book by Jess Walter, Every Knee Shall Bow -- produced by Edgar J. Scherick, responsible for The Heartbreak Kid; Take the Money and Run; They Shoot Horses Don't They; The Kennedys; and Raid on Entebbe.

Spending quality time with Weaver while at Jordan, Montana provided an excellent update on the family. Sara is now 20. She is traveling with a man from Las Vegas, who was part of the siege vigil, looking for a homestead in the west. The girls have repurchased the northern Idaho cabin. Rachel is 14. Elisheba will be five in October. Randy is courting a lady friend in Grand Junction, Iowa. The $3.1-million was divided up between the three girls after the attorneys were paid some $500,000. They bought Randy a Harley. Weaver is still confused about religion -- claiming now to be "anti-Christ." He is now free from probation and other government ties and seemed most willing to talk about what happened to the media.

CBS sent me an advanced video of the movie. I watched it together with Scott Weekly and Richard Flowers. No question there are gross omissions, misstatements, exaggerations, over-simplifications, and negative dramatic license, BUT OVERALL, it is a fairly accurate representation of what happened -- as I know it. They portray me arriving in a caravan of cars decked out with flags and "Bo Gritz For President" banners. They got the blue tunic right, but added a dumb looking beret. I walk up to the "clean-cut" BATF and spell my name adding "It rhymes with whites." Weaver is over six-feet, Dick Rogers (Darth Vader) is short and bald, Sara is blond, -- all wrong, but much of what is presented is all right!

They show Lon Horiuchi shooting Randall in the back -- NOT! It was his observer, using an M-16. Lon is presented accidentally hitting Vicki -- NOT! Remember? Dick Rogers, HRT Commander, told me: "Bo we targeted Vicki because the psychiatrists profiled her as the maternal head of the family who would kill her children before she would allow them to surrender. The FBI doesn't know Vicki is dead (even though Horiuchi says in a court room scene that Vicki screamed for 30 seconds after being shot) and is quick to announce the "accident." Jack McLamb is completely omitted and they don't show me carrying Vicki's body out as little Rachel and Sara cried "Please Bo, don't let our mama's body touch the ground!" Still the movie is worth watching.

What the movie does show are the irresponsible conduct and myriad of lies spun like Black Widows by U.S. Marshals that precipitated the "modified HRT rules of engagement" and deadly force that killed Vicki and shot Randall and Kevin Harris. Striker (Old Yeller) is shown being shot in the spine and dragging his back legs in agony. Sammy is shown running for home yelling: "I'm coming Dad!" before being gunned down. Who killed Marshal William Degan is never settled. The movie has Kevin shooting and missing. They fail to present Gerry Spence's closing statement where it is clear that Degan was killed by his own men.

IT IS NOT THE CRITIC THAT COUNTS

U.S. Senator Joe Biden dropped out of the 1992 presidential race after it was revealed he was guilty of plagiarism. Biden is shown on national TV news reacting to the Freeman standoff and my efforts: "I guess it takes a nut to take to a nut." Mark from Michigan and Bill Cooper -- both confirmed liars and fakes foamed at the mouth about Jack and I being at Jordan. Texe Marrs dedicates his most recent news letter and a new audio tape offering to "The Rise and Fall of a Man of War -- the Tragic example of Lt.Col. James "Bo" Gritz. Texe compares me to a Goliath who preaches a "devilish mixture of New Age quackery, Mormonism, and unscriptural, false Christianity." You may order the Marrs misrepresentations by calling (800) 234-9673, or write to him at: Living Truth Ministries, 1708 Patterson Road, Austin, Texas 78733-6507.

Those of you who know me personally, or through the news letter, radio broadcasts, public presentations, etc. know the truth. Marrs takes a comment about Buddhism and Burma from the January CFA Newsletter out of context. I was present in the Shan Territory when General Khun Sa opened up the first temple for public worship in a generation. Refugees from Rangoon had swarmed to him fleeing the most repressive government on earth. I was impressed observing the spiritually starved people stream into the holy place. There they knelt reverently in prayer. I had the feeling that God was pleased.

As a Christian, I believe that Jesus the Christ is our way back to our Heavenly Father, but there are degrees of learning. Even Texe Marrs was probably not born a Christian with a full knowledge of the Gospel. We each progress through experience, inspiration, and Grace. I'm still looking for a fullness of the Gospel. When people are making an effort to learn more about the truth, I believe God is pleased. I will judge no person -- that is God's place. I do not condemn Hindus, Buddhists, Jews, Islamics, Shintos, et al. Prayerfully there will be a time, as there was for me, when the Holy Ghost will expose them to the truth. Texe criticizes me for suggesting that Christians, Catholics, Mormon, Islamics and Jews all worship the same God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Concerning "Past Life Therapy," again Texe appears to be using me to sell his product. I do not believe in reincarnation -- Texe knows that. I have used the hypnotic technique known as Past Life Therapy" to help people solve problems when conventional methods didn't work. I don't know all things -- and neither does Texe. I believe we existed before birth and will go on after death in a spirit form until God determines our true character. I don't know whether we were once spirit children, guardians, observers, etc. I do know that 100% of the people tested have "past life" remembrances. Maybe they are just dreams. I don't really care -- as long as it can help them get a better grip on the life they are living now!

No two people agree completely on all facets of how they view the supernatural, heaven, the God-head, their on being, past and future. God gives his the agency to accept, reject, and form our own faith -- it is what the Great War in Heaven was fought over! None of us knows for certain the fullness of the truth of all things yet unseen. I personally believe that we were, are, and will be according to God's judgment. I believe upon transformation many of us will recognize that we were together before and fought for God's plan of Salvation. We were not fence sitters, but had the fortitude to choose the right! I believe this is our second estate and a great test to, as Joshua said, to choose. Our future is dependent upon God's grace and our the choices we make. Mine is a warrior's belief. It has allowed me to be fearless of earthly and spiritual enemies. If I am wrong, I have still lived my life impeccably -- courageously -- without compromise! If I am right -- HALLELUJAH!!! WHAT A SHOUT WILL BE HEARD AS THOSE WHO ARE CAUGHT UP JOIN THOSE WHO COME WITH CHRIST IN THE FIRST RESURRECTION! BE THERE -- JOIN US! DON'T BE A FENCE SITTER IN THE MIDDLE OF THE MIDDLE OF THE ROAD!

Let me say this about critics in general and to Joe, Mark, Bill and Texe in particular: "It is not the critic that counts, nor the one who points out how the strong man stumbled or how the doer of deeds might have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred with sweat and dust and blood; who errs and comes short again and again; who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions, and spends himself in a worthy cause; who, if he wins knows the triumph of high achievement; and who, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory or defeat (Teddy Roosevelt)!"

SILVER WINGS UPON YOUR CHEST -- SPIKE AIRBORNE

We are working hard to crunch numbers and inform you of the details for our first "Special Spike." We know that the event will cover three days (Friday, Saturday, Sunday) on 20,21,22 September 1996 in Chattanooga, Tennessee. We are prepared to train a maximum of 100 Parachutists and 100 Observers. We currently have 127 open positions. Those who want to attend must send a $25 deposit to CFA, Box 472 HCR-31, Sandy Valley, Nevada 89019. Jumpers must weigh 240 pounds -- or less, and possess the maturity of a 16 year old -- or more. We will have a full schedule for all in attendance. Those who choose not to make the parachute jump will be afforded the opportunity to pilot a hand-glider down an 800 foot run, or try the highest standing tower bungee jump.

ALL persons will receive both parachute and flight ground instruction. You will be taught how to pack your own chute, make a poncho parachute and prepare for an aircraft message pick-up. You will be part of a take-off and aircraft landing. You will compute, prepare, and service both day and night drop and landing zones. We will identify motels, RV parks, and camp grounds close to the training field. Shuttles will be arranged from and to the airport. All training equipment will be furnished. All instruction will be conducted by professionals. You will need to arrive on Thursday and plan to depart on Monday. We will furnish lunch. Coordination will be made for other meals (Bar-B-Q, etc.).

I'm still crunching numbers. The cost of aircraft time, pilots, jumpmasters, instructors, etc. is high, but I'll guarantee you will not attend a more comprehensive airborne school anywhere in the world. Additionally, the cost will be a fraction of what similar training would be -- if it was available. This is far more than just a "jump school." Most importantly, the training is designed to broaden horizons and lengthen your life -- not shorten it. All those who attend will be awarded either Spike Jump Wings (those who actually make a parachute jump), or Spike Auxiliary Wings (those who do everything but jump). Both categories will attend both flight and jump ground school. Professionals will be on hand to evaluate each of you to insure you are physically qualified for each activity (we have blind parachutists). Don't rule yourself out. Trust us to give you an exciting and safe experience like none other! Accept my promise that you will find the training worth twice the cost. I'll inform you in the June newsletter of the exact cost. I hope to be able to provide Spike Airborne for around $400 per person.

It is important that we receive your deposit and name ASAP. I will refund your deposit if you choose not to attend. We can only accept 100 jumpers and 100 auxiliary for this one-time event. Be There -- along with Spiker from all over the USA!

Just so you will know -- a Spike Scuba is planned for Florida during the month of February. We will be offering extended special courses in Engineering, Medical, Hypnotherapy, Communication, Defensive Weapons, and other special Spike skills. We will locate these three-day workshops around the nation so that it will give you a chance to see America during the best possible season. YOU MUST HAVE ATTENDED A SPIKE TRAINING COURSE, OR QUALIFIED THROUGH SPIKE VIDEO TO ATTEND THE SPECIAL SPIKE QUALIFICATION COURSES!

SPIKEMASTER

We will conclude the 12th and final phase of "Spike" training with Los Angeles on 18 May, Denver - June 1, and Sacramento - June 22. You are awarded a high quality SPIKE CHALLENGE COIN for completing all 12 phases either in residence, or by video. Don't miss this last -- best phase of Spike qualification. I teach you to use hypnotherapy as a substitute for chemical anesthesia in taking away and relieving all manner of pain. Emergency Surgery prepares you to deal with all manner of life saving situations requiring invasive procedure. Scott Weekly opens up the world of Photint (Photo-Intelligence) where you learn to make, read and interpret aerial photos; develop, enlarge and print photographs in the field; and use your camera for a variety of purposes. Jim Gritz covers the broad and important area of Community Defensive Battle Drills -- using Almost Heaven as a model. Make your arrangements now to attend one of these final sessions. Complete the enclosed application and send it in today with your registration fee!

Department of Civilian Marksmanship

Liberal lawmakers are looking to defund this department which is designed to help qualify Americans to receive US Army surplus assault rifles.

The government currently has $76 million in surplus weapons (176,000 rifles and 150,000,000 rounds of ammo). The DCM number is (419)635-2141. Call them and tell them your location and they will tell you the closest DCM authorized qualification representative who can qualify you to receive a weapon.

It's all part of the 2nd Amendment, unorganized militis as defined in USC 10.

JERRY'S CORNER by Jerry Gillespie

GOING, GOING, GONE!

Spring has arrived in Idaho beautifully with the bursting of spring flowers, the budding of new fruit trees, and the blossoms of wild cherry, apple and pear trees.

We're receiving calls daily from people setting up appointments to see and visit our Constitutional Covenant Communities. With the passage of the National ID card (National Drivers License, Birth Certificate, etc) people are finally awakening to what we have been saying for years. The time is now to prepare for the future by securing a piece of "heaven" in Idaho with established like-minded friends and neighbors.

By the way, when I use the word "heaven" I don't mean that to imply (as the media seems to do) anything more than that it is beautiful for me to sit at my computer, composing this article, and to view the lush green fields, beautiful blue sky and once in a while watch some deer, elk or pheasants.

The peace and solitude is wonderful. I can see for miles in all directions.

Bo and Claudia are visiting us at this time preparing their home site. Claudia's excitement is uncontainable. I can see a complete attitude change in her. Her radiance and countenance seems to blossom as the flowers in Idaho as she prepares for her move. (I truly believe Bo has hypnotized Claudia into thinking he is Robert Redford!) ha!

During the past five years of traveling with Bo and Claudia during the presidential campaign and now during SPIKE have been a rewarding experience. We have become family and what a joy to have them around. I'm looking forward to their move. The Stirlings are our next door neighbors and they have a game called Wa-Hoo. The last time Bo and CJ were up here we played that game with the Stirlings (Patty and Ross) and their 9 year-old son Ben. When I picked Bo and CJ up at the airport yesterday practically the first thing out of Bo's mouth was "We got to call Ben and tell him to bring Wa-Hoo over so I can beat him."

While I anticipate the slowing of my lifestyle I realize that many of those whom I have grown to love and care for will not be seen for awhile. But then, I also realize, that many of those have chosen to join us in Idaho.

Why haven't you????

We have a variety of lots available ranging from 2 acres to 5 acres and our RV lots all available on the easiest of terms. Give Ross Stirling a call today at (208)935-2307 and make an appointment. Land prices will be going up 7/1/96.

C.P.A. Construction

Those of you whom have purchased or are planning on purchasing here please give our construction company an opportunity to bid on your driveway, septic system, foundation, home or anything you wish to have built.

We are using the people that have moved here to help on these projects. This has been a real blessing to many up here who need work to continue building their homes or improving their lots.

You'll be pleased with the quality that is put into every project and because we are all neighbors we want to do a good job for you because we'll be seeing you almost every day.

Give Joe Schiess at call at (208)935-4818 and tell him that you're moving to Idaho and wish to have a home built.

We'll be starting on a 6400 sq. ft. home the first of June as well as doing the foundation for the Gritz's.

NIGHT VISION GOGGLES

There are three categories of NVG available today. Cat. 1 is military stuff from Russia. It is inexpensive, but doesn't have the infrastructure, or reliability of U. S. manufactured goods. Cat. 2 is warranted civilian gear from the U. S. and Cat. 3 is U. S. Mil. Spec. (out of reach costwise for most people). The chief advantage of NVGs is not only the ability to see in the dark, but 1 to 1 magnification enables you to run, drive, or fly (safely) at night. ANY MAGNIFICATION BEYOND 1:1 ALLOWS YOU TO SEE, BUT NOT USE THE NVGs AS A DEVICE FOR REAL TIME MOVEMENT. NVGs allow you to use normal telescopic weapon scopes at night.

Both American and former USSR NVGs have three generations — levels of light intensification. Gen.-1 includes the U. S. "starlight" scopes from the Vietnam era with about 1,500 - 10,000 light amplification (short-life); Gen.-2 pushes amplification to 35,000 (U.S. PVS-5) with about 2,500 - 5,000 hours of use. Gen.-3 captures 50,000 x normal starlight @ 10,000 hours. Naturally Gen. 1 is much cheaper than Gen. 3 in either the U.S. or USSR wrapper.

We can offer you an outstanding value on a Russian-made but US Warranted Goggle Set that I personally recommend as I have used them for flying at night. They are excellent.

Gen. - 2 NVG - These goggles are binocular style with 35,000 "starlight" amplification and infrared. They are Russian made but have been modified to US specifications. They are identical to the U.S. PVS-5 goggles. They come complete with a 1 year warranty from a California firm. They also come with head gear and carrying pack. These are excellent night vision goggles that normally sell for $1499.00. Our price is $895.00. These are advanced goggles from what we had in Phase 8 of SPIKE because they have infrared!

S.P.I.K.E. PHASE 9 VIDEO SET and PRODUCTS

SURVIVAL! Phase 9 concentrates on cold and hot weather survival with experts Charlie McCowan and Special Warfare Schools Instructor Jim Gritz. SPIKE PHASE 11 VIDEOS and PRODUCTS

In Phase 11 these exciting videos bring you in-depth education on Lock Manipulation. In Phase 2 of SPIKE you were given the basics of lock-manipulation learning about lock picks, tension tools, combination locks, etc. In Phase 11, our Advanced Course of Defense Against Restricted Entry (ADARE) you'll learn from Bo Gritz's Safe Manipulation - how to open safes quickly and easily, how to change safe combinations and much more. Did you really think your home and auto security system were protecting these items? Think again!!! Scott Weekly's Security Alarms will show you just how easily you can bypass these systems. You'll learn how to beat The Club, security and motion detector alarms and car alarms within a few seconds. Learn how unprotected your personal possessions really are. Jim Gritz's Vehicle Entry will give you instruction in the proper tools for entering any vehicle in no time at all. The tools necessary for your new career in locksmithing will be instrumental in helping you to secure those accounts of highest prestige. $75.00.

ADARE Lockmaster Combination Lock and Vault Manual - The most comprehensive manual on the planet for specific methods of defeating every possible combination lock. This 450 page study would cost more than $2,000 - IF you could purchase the separate components. Data on safe locks is restricted and coded. This manual takes you step-by-step through changing combinations; trouble shooting; maintenance; servicing; safe lock manipulation and forced entry complete with templates. This vault manual lists manufacturers set standard combinations which in many cases are never changed. Because lockouts are inevitable, every lock maker must have bypasses. Only certified lockmasters can obtain the information. To further guard against unauthorized access, specifics are encoded. Code keys are provided by the factory only to approved persons. Bo has compiled and decoded documents that allow the Spike Lockmaster access to virtually every safe manufactured. With this guidebook you are on your way as an expert in opening all combinations from the smallest briefcase sesame to the 30-ton monster vaults. Contains Sections 6-8 of your Spike Lockmaster Course. $30.00.

ADARE Lockmaster Alarm, Auto and SI (Special Intelligence) Entry Manual - Spike Lockmaster course comes in eight sections - five of which are included in this 235 page text. Most security alarm systems can be bypassed in seconds. As a physical security expert you must know how to evaluate every possible system. Scott Weekly points the way in Sections 1 & 2. Section 3 covers coded and electronic locks. Jim Gritz gives you the keys to enter every motor vehicle in Section 4 complete with specific diagrams for all makes and year models now on American roads. Section 5 introduces a Special Intelligence entry means that allows the Lockmaster to bypass high security measures including dead bolts, door blockers, chains and latches and relock the facility once the entry purpose is accomplished. Not even Columbo, or Sherlock will be able to figure out who done it! This eight section Spike Lockmaster Course is separated into two volumes for your convenience. The safe manual goes with you on jobs involving combination locks. Alarms and auto entry is made easy in the companion manual. $20.00.

SPECIAL LOCKMASTER TOOLS: The following tools are available to you only upon completion of the Phase 11 Video tape sets. You must request a signed and sealed Certificate of Completion to provide evidence that you are a person authorized to use these special entry items.
